

REQUISITION PAPERS FOR HARMON MAN

GOV. DUNNE ISSUES PAPERS FOR RETURN OF LEO MONTAVON WANTED HERE.

FOR HARMON ASSAULT FRIDAY

Is Thought to Have Been Instigator of the Assault on Harry Ostrander.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 22.—Governor Dunne today issued requisition papers on the governor of Iowa for the extradition of Leo Montavon of Harmon, who is wanted in Lee county for an assault with intent to commit bodily harm on Harry Ostrander of Harmon.

Dixon—Montavon is believed by local authorities to have been the instigator of the attack on Harry Ostrander, Harmon justice of the peace and merchant last Friday evening. Three men assaulted him in front of his store, it will be remembered, and he was badly injured. Wm. McCormick and Ernest Kelley, two Harmon young fellows, were arrested for the misdemeanor and are now drubbed to appear before Justice Hanneken tomorrow afternoon. Montavon escaped at the time of the assault, but should the requisition be honored he will be returned here for hearing.

Refute False Story Of Congressman M'Kenzie

The article declaring that Congressman John C. McKenzie drew pay from the state of Illinois after he qualified as the member of congress from the 13th district, which appeared in a Dixon paper Monday evening, Oct. 19, 1914, is not true. It will be remembered that four years ago when McKenzie made his first race for congress this same article appeared in the Chicago Tribune. Several days after the Tribune published a statement signed by Mr.

STATE WILL OPPOSE CHANGE OF VENUE FOR BYERS SISTERS

STATE'S ATTORNEY LUDENS TO TRY TO SHOW FAIR TRIAL CAN BE HAD.

IS UP TO JUDGE RAMSAY

If a Change Is Granted He Will Determine Where Trial Will Be Held.

(Special to The Telegraph.)
Sterling, Oct. 22.—That Judge Ramsay intends to grant the plea of the Byers sisters for a change of venue is indicated by his action today in notifying the petit jurors who had been summoned for the last two weeks of the circuit court, during which the women were to have been tried, that they need not report.

Sterling, Oct. 22.—State's Attorney J. J. Ludens will oppose with every means at his command the effort of the attorneys for Mrs. Emma Hutton and Miss Lillian Byers to secure a change of venue from Whiteside county. While he has refused to state the nature of the fight he will make against this new move on the part of the defense it is known that he will endeavor to show by evidence that the public of Whiteside county has generally failed to form an opinion on the case and that a fair and impartial trial is therefore possible in the county.

If Judge Ramsay grants the application for the change of venue tomorrow it becomes his duty to name the county in which the case will be tried.

Heavy Cost to County.

In case a change of venue is granted Whiteside county will be compelled to bear the cost of the trial. As a result, it is likely that the case will go to Lee county, the facilities there being such that it will cost less than to take it to some county farther away, where the hotel accommodations, etc., are such as to make it handy for witnesses, attorneys and others and even cheaper than to try it at Morrison.

Ready for Trial.
Judge Ward stated today that the application for a change of venue was not meant to delay the case, asserting he was ready to go to trial at any time.

Byers Sisters Arrive.

Mrs. Hutton and Miss Byers arrived in Sterling from Chicago Tuesday evening, accompanied by Lee Hutton. Thomas Flynn said to be an investigator in the employ of Attorney Charles Erbsstein of Chicago arrived at the same time. The defendants went at once to the Randolph House where they remained secluded all day. Judge Ward, their senior counsel requested that newspapermen make no attempt to interview the ladies, stating that he had issued instructions to them to make no statements. Any attempts to interview them would only result in annoying them, he stated, while it would bring no results.

Both Mrs. Hutton and Miss Byers will remain in Sterling until the time for their trial and where they may be in close touch with their attorneys.

SAYS MAN FIRED SHOT THAT KILLED MRS. LUISE BAILEY

MRS. CARMAN'S ATTORNEY SAYS HE WILL PROVE WOMAN IS INNOCENT.

(Associated Press.)

Mineola, L. I., Oct. 22.—"We will prove that the murder of Mrs. Bailey was committed by a man and not by Mrs. Carman," said George Levy, of the counsel for the accused woman, in his opening statement to the jury today.

He said he will prove that the witness, Frank Farrell, is a liar. Farrell testified yesterday and repeated on cross examination today that he saw a woman run from the window through which the shot was fired and go back of the Carman house.

The defense called several witnesses to refute the testimony given by Celia Coleman, the negro maid, who swore Mrs. Carman had admitted the killing.

STIRRING RALLY BY REPUBLICANS AT GAP GROVE; LARGE CROWD

TOWN HALL WAS FILLED TO CAPACITY WITH INTERESTED VOTERS.

BYERS AND EDWARDS SPOKE

Discuss National, State and County Political Issues In An Able Manner.

A capacity audience greeted the speakers and the candidates at the Republican meeting at the Palmyra town hall at Gap Grove last evening.

Attorney H. C. Warner, chairman of the Republican county central committee was in charge of the meeting and introduced the speakers with a few well chosen remarks.

John H. Byers was the first speaker and he spoke on national issues for half an hour. He was followed by State's Attorney Harry Edwards who addressed the assemblage on the issues in this state. Then John B. Crabtree, Republican candidate for county judge, Fred G. Dimick, Republican candidate for county clerk, Robert R. Phillips, Republican candidate for sheriff, John E. Moyer, Republican candidate for county treasurer, Edwin S. Rosecrans, Republican candidate for circuit clerk, and Prof. L. W. Miller, Republican candidate for county superintendent of schools, were introduced to the audience and made short talks, each of which were greeted with applause.

Democratic Influence.
Mr. Byers in his speech said that the political problems of today cannot be solved entirely by thinking. A study of the conditions as they really are and the problems must be diagnosed as a disease. Conditions here in many ways have been good but that is not so in many other states. In the east factories are now closed or running on short time which during Republican administrations were running full force. The same is true of manufacturing plants all over the country. Why? Because they are afraid to go ahead on account of the inconsistencies of the Democrats in their legislative action and because of their proclivities to quarrel among themselves.

During the last general campaign the Democrats promised legislation for the farmer, a revision of the tariff downward, to cut the high cost of living. They took the duty off sugar and the country lost $54,000,000. But can anyone notice where the price of sugar to the common people has been cut. The Democrats took the duty off sheep and now sheep may be shipped into this country to compete with native sheep on our markets. They didn't take the duty off rice because rice is raised in the Democratic south.

Business Problems.
They passed child labor laws, employers' liability laws, eight hour laws for women. These are all good laws but since they have taken the duty off foreign products shipped into this country, and added these hardships on the business men, how can they be expected to compete with the prices of foreign products, products that are raised with less than half the expense at which they can be raised in this country.

Create New Offices.
They promised to abolish a lot of useless offices originated under Republican administrations but since they have come into power they have created new offices and raised the salaries of office holders, making an increase in the payroll of $278,000 per year. They have made an attempt to increase the salaries of secretaries to congressman, but this was blocked by a number of northern Republican members.

Attorney Edwards.
State's Attorney Harry Edwards spoke on campaign issues in this state. He stated that Gov. Dunne had charged the Republican with wanton extravagance during their administration and promised economy in the state administration if he was elected. He then stated that the state tax which had been 31 cents on the hundred dollars, is now 71 cents and in the two remaining years of Democratic administration it is liable to go much higher.

They promised to abolish a number of office holders in case they got into power. What did they do? They have created enough offices so that all leaders in the last campaign might be taken care of and are still establishing more boards and bureaus.

Attorney Edwards told his auditors that during the last Democratic campaign they had made many nice promises of smaller taxes than during the preceding Republican administrations, but instead of this the taxes are higher than they have been and will continue to go still higher if a Democratic legislature is returned to Springfield this fall.

Mr. Edwards then said a few words in favor of Congressman John C. McKenzie, candidate for re-election, and William L. Leach and F. A. Brewer, Republican candidates for legislature, and also Adam C. Cliffe of Sycamore, Republican candidate for the state senate.

DID CHILD WAKE UP CROSS OR FEVERISH

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" and then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled!

BOSS GOT $330,000 OUT OF "FRANCHISE"

"Jep" Howe Aided Lorimer in St. Louis Bridge Grab.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—That William Lorimer and his associates gave "Jep" Howe, former Republican "boss" of St. Louis, $330,000 in bonds of the Southern Traction company for the franchise right of that corporation over the new municipal bridge at St. Louis is the admission which Howe himself has made to W. C. Niblack, receiver for the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank, Lorimer's defunct bank.

Howe says he was given the bonds as an "attorney's fee" for assisting in the passage of a franchise grant for the traction company through the house of delegates and the city council of St. Louis.

The bonds were pledged at the Lorimer bank when it was closed last June. Howe asks Receiver Niblack to give him back the bonds, and, in doing so, makes admissions that he had a personal interest in the Southern Traction company when asking the city council and house of delegates of St. Louis as a "disinterested Republican" to grant this franchise.

Three times the people of St. Louis have refused at the ballot box to approve bond issues to build an eastern approach to this bridge, that it might be put in use. The reason advanced was that the bridge was intended to be free to all transportation companies wishing to enter St. Louis, while Howe and associates had deliberately given a "franchise" over the structure before it was completed.

The city council has passed a repeal of the Lorimer-Howe franchise. The house of delegates is expected to pass it at the meeting this week. Mayor Kiel says he will sign the repeal.

FROST IS LATEST FOR FORTY YEARS

NOT IN FORTY-FOUR YEARS HAS JACK FROST BEEN SO BACKWARD.

Not in forty-four years, it is said, has there been an autumn when frost has been so late in coming.

October 17, 1882, is the latest date for the first light frost, according to local prognosticators, while in the majority of seasons there has been a killing frost by this time. This year there has been no frost at all and vegetation is still green and growing vigorously.

The earliest light frost in the last forty-four years fell September 9, 1883, while the earliest killing frost, which means one sufficiently severe to destroy all vegetation susceptible to freezing, took place September 18, 1875. Last year the first light frost was noted September 26, while the first killing frost came October 21.

Holding off of frosts during the fall is of no special significance to the farmer, except that a few severe freezes are usually considered desirable to help prepare the corn for husking and to make it easier to break from the stock.

There is some danger of late potatoes, however, for most of them are still growing and green. A light frost usually kills the vines and then several days are needed for the maturing of the tubers so that the skin will not slip when they are dug and handled. This fall there is danger that the hard freezes may come before they are matured, catching them in the ground and ruining them.

ARGENTINE'S NEW CONSTITUTION IS SIMILAR TO U.S.

AMBASSADOR NAON TELLS AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION OF HIS COUNTRY.

ARE NOT WAR LOVING PEOPLE

Says That His Country Was Among the First to Favor Arbitration.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 22.—Ambassador Naon, of the Argentine Republic, who recently acted as one of the mediators in the Mexican troubles, today addressed the American Bar Association now in session here on "The Argentine Constitutional Idea." The ambassador outlined broadly the essential features of the Argentine constitution, its democratic spirit, and its effect in the social development of the people. Comparing the system with that of the United States, he said:

Patterned After U. S.
The organization given by the Argentine Constitution to the various departments of the government, served as a model to the framers of our Constitution of '53, with some differences relating to the organization and operation of the executive power. Thus our legislative power reveals in the constitution of its two chambers the federal principle of our institutions. The idea of a national unity being reflected in a Chamber of Deputies, the genuine representation of the people of the nation, elected there in proportion to the population of the country, and in an Upper Chamber or Senate composed of two representatives for each state and two for the federal capital, who represent the local autonomy of each state.

One Difference.
The right of the federal capital to send its deputies and senators like any other province, a right not enjoyed by the American capital, is the only detail of the organization of the legislative power which differentiates the Argentine congress, if we do not consider the form of election of the senators and deputies, the former being elected by the legislatures in each province, and the latter by the application of the principle which guarantees to the minority a permanent representation in the Chamber of Deputies.

Referring to the pacific progress of the people of his country, the ambassador said:

Are Not Warlike
"Resort to arms has never attracted their predilections, and if they have more than once been compelled to accept it as an inexorable and inevitable necessity, they have not done so either to seek a benefit or to procure an advantage, because they have never conceived any benefit which could spring from the misfortune or from the prostration which war entails. It is only the unavoidable exigencies of the national dignity of the integrity of our institutions which could compel it to accept the calamities and consequences of a war."

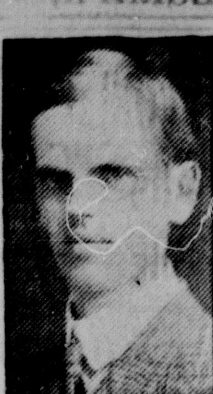

For Arbitration.
Mr. Naon pointed out that his country "was the first to strive for the success of a formula establishing compulsory arbitration without limitations, proclaiming and defending it in all the deliberations of international congresses and conferences in which she has participated, and finally including it in the numerous treaties of arbitration which she has entered into between 1892 and the present date. In all of them the following clauses have been inserted: 'The contracting parties agree to submit to arbitration all questions of any nature that may arise between them, provided they do not affect the provisions of the Constitution of either state, and cannot be settled by direct negotiations.'"

BAPTISTS' RAP WARDEN ALLEN

Denounce Him for Not Allowing Prisoners to Sign "Dry" Petition.

Mount Vernon, Ill., Oct. 22.—A resolution denouncing Edmund M. Allen, warden of the state penitentiary, for refusing to let prisoners sign an anti-liquor petition, as drawn up by Andrew J. Patrick, chaplain of the institution, was adopted at the Illinois Baptist state convention.

The following officers were elected: President, W. G. Brixson, Chicago; secretary, D. C. Hopkins, Champaign; first vice president, H. R. Clissold, Morgan Park; second vice president, J. H. Wells, Mount Vernon; treasurer, L. K. Evans, El Paso; historical secretary, M. W. Twing, Alton. Mrs. W. Topping of Elgin was elected president of the Woman's Missionary society. Mrs. Frederick W. Heath of Chicago was named secretary and Mrs. H. W. Tate of Evanston treasurer.

Horatio Herbert Kitchener

Kitchener, was born in County Kerry in 1850 the son of a lieutenant colonel, and twenty-one years later was a second lieutenant himself in the Engineers. For many years he served in Cyprus, Palestine, Egypt and other remote sections in the usual English way now and then getting a promotion and occasionally getting shot by the enemy in a painful and disconcerting fashion. In 1895 he was given the job of cleaning up the Sudan, which at that time was about as unhealthy a place for England as existed on the globe.

Kitchener went at his campaign in a very peculiar manner and it caused a good deal of remark among those who thought the way to defeat the Fuzzy-wuzzies of the Sudan was to rush in and distribute obituary among friend and foe with a larval hand. He took a few assistants and spent several months rambling over the enemy's territory with a surveyor's kit, a book of logarythms and other unwar-like instruments. When he came back he began building a railroad. Later on he rounded up the Sudanese in front of his railroad with trainloads of ammunition behind him, and blew them into the disarray at Omdurman in a workmanlike manner which earned him a title, the hanks of Parliament and $155,000. And yet there are men who say that war does not pay.

Kitchener went to the Transvaal as chief-of-staff to Lord Roberts the next year and rounded up the Boers in the same scientific and comparatively bloodless manner. At the end of this war he was made a viscount, a general and the recipient of $250,000. He also got more or less medals and was greatly pestered with attention.

Kitchener went to India, Australia and New Zealand afterward, reorganizing armies, and was made a field marshal. For some years he has not had a job in the army, owing to his indifferent brand of politics, but in the present unpleasantness he is regarded as the hope of Great Britain, and if allowed to do enough surveying and build railroads enough will undoubtedly harass the enemy considerably.

INTERESTING SIDE LIGHTS ON WAR

(Associated Press Correspondence.)

London, Oct. 2.—The call for contributions of jam, which is made by certain British war relief societies backed by the press, may lead strangers to believe that Tommy Atkins is the most pampered of fighting men. But this is not true, since the hard Egyptian campaign of 1884 proved that jam is not a luxury but a necessary preventative of scurvy. Millions of pounds of jam were consumed by the British war troops in the Boer war and the army of France has been kept well supplied with it in the present campaign.

The British soldier is the best fed in Europe. A force of 200,000 men is given four months' rations on this scale: 24,000,000 pounds of hard bread, 18,000,000 pounds of beef, 1,600,000 pounds of compressed vegetables, 720,000 tins of condensed milk, 800,000 pounds of salt, 800 pounds of coffee and 400,000 pounds of tea, 40,000 gallons of rum, 64,000 bottles of port and 24,000 bottles of whisky and 2,900,000 tins of jam of one pound each.

Among the miscellaneous stores used at the front of tons of alum for purifying water, chloride of lime and carbolic acid powder disinfectants. Hay, oats and bran are also furnished on a generous scale for the horses and mules.

Berlin, Oct. 1.—It was recently reported by cable that a son of M. Delcasse, the French Minister, had been wounded and fallen into the hands of the Germans. A letter of a soldier at the front tells how his capture occurred.

One morning a German patrol of three men entered a village near the river Meuse to discover whether it was occupied by the French. They had hardly entered a school house when the leader, looking out of a window saw a patrol of ten men coming down the village street. Taking their positions at the windows, the three Germans opened such a hot fire upon the French party that eight of them were killed before they could recover from the confusion caused by this sudden attack. The German men were surprised to find that the sub-lieutenant, the commander of the French patrol, who fell wounded into their hands, was the son of Delcasse. The young man, who is only about twenty years old, was brought to a hospital at Merseburg in central Germany. His wounds are not dangerous, although he was shot through both thighs.

London, Oct. 2.—The Lord Mayor's show, with its gilded coaches and Georgian liveried flunkies in wigs and cocked hats, and its historical pageant, is likely to be abandoned this year when Sir Charles Johnston is installed on November 9. Nor is the famous banquet which should follow in the evening in the ancient guildhall, a favored idea at this time. Thus the two things that make it worth while to be the Lord Mayor of London will not take place, according to good authority.

This year the City is the saddest part of London. The stock exchange is closed, business disrupted and a large part of its young men have joined the colors. With money scarce, distress widespread and men being killed at the front, a show pageant and banquet seem both a waste of money and a lack of respect for the fallen.

London, Oct. 2.—Owing to the wear and tear of campaigning, the war department has had to send a complete new outfit to the force at the front. This and the clothing of the territorial force has consumed all the available khaki. Uniforms of blue navy serge are now being turned out at the rate of 12,000 a day and the supply of historic jackets is also drawn on in the clothing of recruits of the new army. A shortage of army overcoats has forced the war officers to buy up civilian coats of various shapes and colors.

The volunteers are larger men physically than the recruits of normal times, as the stock army sizes in clothing are found too small as a rule.

DEMENTTOWN DOINGS

If you want to avoid a lot of trouble at the coming election, don't forget to see that you are registered next Tuesday.

No, ladies, it will not be necessary for you to tell the electors a clerk's story as yet.

Speaking of scandals, we heard something this morning that opened our eyes. Honestly, dear audience, we hesitate to publish it, but realize that the duty of a first class column is to give the news, no matter who it hits, we're going to impart the information even if we have to carry a gun to the next week. We heard—the alarm clock. Tee-hee!

Our Mr. Simpson.
From a friend of Arthur Simpson, the genial manager of the Dixon opy house, we learn that once in his home town of Rockford, Mr. Simpson took part in a home talent production of that great musical comedy—or is it a drama—Richard the Third. Times. Mr. Simpson, according to our friend, who told us the story yesterday, played the part of Dick the TriPLICATE. All went well and swell until Richard tragically proclaimed:

"A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a horse."

At this some fellow up in the gallery, who knew simp, yelled out, "Oh I say Art, you know me Al, wouldn't a jackass do as well?"

And then, relates the story teller, Mr. Simpson demonstrated that he was a come-back boy, for in a voice that sounded like—thunder, he replied: "Certainly. Come around to the stage door at once."

Goose Hollow Letter.
"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was at the opy house the other nite and the show was purty good. They didn't have no bludhounds so they borrowed old Bill Shipp's two mongrel dogs. Everything went all rite in the show until the dogs seen old Bill out in the crowd and they jumped rite off of that stage and run to him. It purtie nigh busted up the show.

One of them girls with the Uncle Tom's Cabin show the other nite were one of them high falutin skirts which was split half way up to her knee and you ought to of saw Anse Whittle stretch his neck. He sed his wife, Mandy, wore one like that but her'n wasn't made thataway on purpose as she tore it when she flicker at a calf.

Miss Sallie Winks has invited a lot of the folks around here to a big birthday party at her house next Tuesday nite. She sez it is her 24 birthday but all of us knows that she has been 24 for the last five years. She was born just the day after old Jed Watts' horse Maud was born and that was purtie nigh onto thirty year ago.

Mariar Jones from up in Muddy Gulch country made a lot of excitement Sunday at church. She went to sleep and when Deacon Jones' wife pinched her to wake her up she swattered her store teeth. After church she sed the Deacon's wife would have to get her a new set as they cost her $3.98 and Deacon Jones' wife didn't have no bizness a pinchin' her anyway.

An Old Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and breaks the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pinex on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

BUTTONS FOR UNCLE SAMS ARMY CAME FROM GREAT BRITAIN

DEMOCRATIC TARIFF ALLOWED
ENGLISH FIRM TO GET CONTRACT.

WAR CAME AS GOOD EXCUSE

For Cancellation of the Agreements
—"Feared" Uncertain
Delivery.

Washington, Oct. 22—The brass buttons for American soldiers' uniforms have been made in England under contract awarded by the democratic Secretary of War and democratic Secretary of the Navy.

Uncle Sam's soldiers and sailors wear a lot of brass buttons. Some of them have two double rows down the front of their uniforms. Then there are army and navy ornaments, shoulder straps and other kinds of official insignia. Uncle Sam's revenue officers, under Secretary McAdoo, wear brass buttons too, and even the capital policemen and watchmen at the doors of the government departments are adorned with these shining emblems of official authority.

The civilian who doesn't care much about brass buttons anyhow may find it difficult to realize that Uncle Sam spends from sixty to seventy thousand dollars a year for brass and bronze buttons, but he does. In the "basket clause" of Schedule G, of the democratic tariff law, the duties on these buttons was reduced from 32 per cent to 15 per cent, ad valorem.

English Firm Successful.

As soon as this was made known an English firm entered competition for the button contract and because of cheap labor was able to underbid the American manufacturers who had handled the contract satisfactorily for several years and had given employment to hundreds of men in the making of American buttons for American soldiers.

As soon as the contract was awarded to British button manufacturers, New England manufacturers, naturally, made a big protest. No attention was paid to this until the protest became so strong that democratic senators and congressmen from New England saw their mistake and urged the cancellation of these contracts. Not until July, however, was the contract to the British firm cancelled and then it was given upon the ground that un settled conditions made delivery uncertain. Thus, the war was a very present need in time of trouble to the democrats.

A HAPPY CHILD IN JUST A FEW HOURS

IF CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTI-
PATED, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

Mother can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it cannot cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—if full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, bad breath, remember a gentle "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrup. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

DEADLOCK IS ON AT RUSS BORDER

Petrograd Says German Advance
Has Failed.

FORTY MILES FROM WARSAW

UNITED STATES PROTESTS AGAIN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22—The United States has protested to England because of the seizure of the American steamer Brandilla, which is now at Halifax. The protest from this government demands the immediate release of the Brandilla.

AFRICAN NATIVE CHIEF IS EXECUTED

London, Oct. 22—An Exchange telegraph dispatch from The Hague says that Magna Dell, the native chief of Kamerun, a German colony in West Africa, has been executed for trying to cause the natives to rebel against Germany.

London, Oct. 22—It is admitted in Vienna that the German and Austrian armies in Poland have been unable to resume their advance. Dispatches received in Rome from the Austrian capital say that the battle now raging is of tremendous importance. Repeated attempts to storm the fortified line held by the Russians have failed. The Russian positions seem to be impregnable.

Germans Forty Miles From Warsaw.

From Petrograd it is reported that the Russians have driven the Germans forty miles west of Warsaw and that the czar's army now holds Skiernewicz, southwest of Warsaw. The town is an important railroad center communicating with Thorn, Breslau and Keonigshtutte. The German line now rests on the River Zouza, an affluent of the Vistula. The German columns which threatened Warsaw have all been halted at varying distances from the Polish capital.

All the news points to a German plan of a defensive campaign. Elaborate entrenchments similar to the defenses in northern France have been constructed.

Official Statement.

The official news agency in Petrograd has issued the following statement in reply to German and Austrian accounts of the operations around Przemyśl:

"The German official communications have adopted a policy of grossly exaggerating the Russian losses. It is announced here that the records in this matter are kept, and from this it is known that the Austrian announcements that the Russian losses at Przemyśl are about 40,000 exceeds the real losses 100 times."

The story of a Russian victory in the region of Stryj in Galicia comes from Warsaw. The Austrians screened their advance by carrying branches of trees. The Russians feigned ignorance of the approach. They permitted the Austrians to draw near. Meanwhile the Russians brought their light artillery and machine guns into strong position. In the morning the Russians opened a sudden and deadly fire. After very little resistance the Austrians surrendered as the Russians were making a bayonet charge. An entire battalion was taken, together with fifteen officers and six machine guns.

Paris Reports Germans Repulsed.

Paris, Oct. 22.—The official communication at 3 p. m. says: "During the day of yesterday the attacks of the enemy were particularly violent at Nieuport, Dixmude and La Bassée. They all were repulsed by the allied armies with great energy. "At all other points the situation is without any notable change."

Berlin Claims Allies Repulsed.

Berlin, via Saville, L. I., wireless, Oct. 22.—The day's statement from Berlin, received by wireless, was: "Official headquarters report Oct. 20 that the German troops advancing along the coast from Ostend met hostile forces near Nieuport on the Yser. Fighting has been going on since Oct. 15 west of Lille. The attacks of the enemy on Oct. 19 were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy. From Russia there is no important news."

Allies Holding Their Own.

Paris, Oct. 22.—The official communication issued at 10:55 at night says:

"On our left wing, from the North sea to La Bassée, on the fronts extending from Nieuport to Dixmude, from Ypres to Menin and from Warneux to La Bassée, a violent battle was engaged in during the day. Latest news is to the effect that the allied forces are holding their own throughout the line."

"There is nothing new on the center or on the right wing."

"Russia—The German army, which was directed against Warsaw, was forced yesterday to retreat precipitately. The enemy has abandoned positions which he had organized for defense. The Russians are pursuing and are making many prisoners."

INHERITED DEFECTS ATTRIBUTABLE TO ALCOHOL.

The influence of alcohol as a detrimental factor in inheritance is one which has not readily lent itself to convincing experimental proof in the past. During the last four years Professor Stockard of the Cornell University Medical School in New York City has been engaged in a study of the effects of alcohol in heredity. He has demonstrated conclusively that the germ cells of male guinea pigs can be so injured by allowing the individuals to inhale the fumes of alcohol that they give rise to defective offspring although mated with vigorous females. The extension of these unique investigations, in which the offspring from the treated animals which reach maturity are usually nervous and slightly undersized, have further shown that the effect of the injury to the germ cells is not only exhibited by the immediate offspring of alcoholized animals, but is conveyed through their descendants for at least three generations. There are many instances of matings followed by negative results or early abortions, stillborn young or defectives. An illustration which was very instructive was afforded in a case in which two of the four young animals were completely eyeless, the eyeballs, optic nerves, and chiasma being absent. Such defects result, according to Stockard, from the injury originally inflicted on the germ cells by the experimental treatment. Yet this injury may have been received by earlier generations only. Thus the parents of the guinea pigs mentioned were untreated, their four grandparents were also untreated; but their great-grandfathers were all alcoholized and their great-grandmothers were all normal animals. The defective eyes of descendants are due to impaired development, not to the direct action of alcohol. Plainly the germ cell is actually weakened, if not disabled by the alcohol treatment and all individuals arising from combinations involving such a germ cell are likely to be below normal. As The Journal of the American Medical Association says there is food for reflection in these facts.

WILL NOT BE DELIVERED.

Former President Roosevelt's failure to hold his Chicago audience does not indicate want of public interest in Theodore Roosevelt, the man.

Had the former president elected to talk to his hearers of his wonderful trip to South America, the chairs would have been occupied when he closed his address. Had he spoken on any one of a hundred subjects which he can ally discuss, few persons would have left the hall.

But the Illinois public has no sympathy with Mr. Roosevelt's political purpose in coming to this state at this time. His mission does not appeal to them. It is a mission of destruction, and the voters of Illinois will have none of it.

Mr. Roosevelt came to this state to deliver its progressive vote to a single-tax, free trade candidate for United States senator—a man with whose political principles he has nothing in common and whose heresies he cannot consistently endorse.

And he wants to make this delivery to the end, not that Robins may be elected, but that Lawrence Y. Sherman may be defeated by Chicago's money bags candidate for the senate, Roger Sullivan.

The Illinois audiences which walk out on Colonel Roosevelt are simply notifying him that they are against his Illinois political program; that they are not to be delivered for the benefit of Roger Sullivan.

"AS NEVER BEFORE."

In his blanket endorsement of congress and democratic congressmen, President Wilson says that the people of the country "has been served by this congress as they have never been served before."

Which statement is literally true. And because the people of the country "have been served by this congress as they have never been served before," announcement of the early adjournment of the body has been received with universal rejoicing and a revival of business.

When Abraham Lincoln uttered a now famous remark about the impossibility of riding two horses going in opposite directions, he must have had a prophetic anticipation of Woodrow Wilson's predicament in trying to condemn Roger Sullivan through the mouth of one personal representative while approving him with the breath of another personal representative.

When Colonel Roosevelt started for the mill to deliver his grist of progressive votes to the single-tax miller, Raymond Robins, he neglected to observe a hole in the sack through which the aforesaid votes were slipping rapidly away. It begins to look as if one William Jennings Bryan will be able to deliver more votes to Robins than Roosevelt can.

There can be no "war tax" imposed in a country which is at peace with all the world as the United States has been, and will be. The new revenue tax which Woodrow Wilson's administration is inflicting upon the people of this country is a democratic deficiency tax. It is not a war tax at all.

Some of the Poor

By WALT MASON

So many have no roofs or doors, no sheets to tuckle under. You hire some men to do your chores, and then you cease to wonder. Alas, it is so hard to find—he talks so much pursuing—the worker who will keep his mind on what he may be doing. I hire a man to saw some sticks, to keep the fire a-going, and he discusses politics, in language smooth and flowing; the saw grows rusty while he stands, the welkin shrinks and totters, as he, with swinging jaws and hands, denounces Wall Street plotters. When I go home, as dusk grows dense, I hear his windy rages, and kick him sadly through the fence, when I have paid his wages. I hire a man to paint the churn and hoe the morning glories, and when at evening I return he's busy telling stories. "That toiler is no good, I fear," remarks the hausfrau, Sally; I take him, gently by the ear and lead him to the ally. I hire a man the stove to black, and fix the kitchen table, and when at evening I come back, he's sleeping in the stable. And thus we suffer and endure the trifter's vain endeavor; we do not wonder that the poor are with us here forever.

MRS. CARMAN IS ACCUSED BY MAID

Negro Girl Says Doctor's Wife Confessed Crime.

HAD REVOLVER IN HER HAND

If Testimony of Celia Coleman Has Weight, Jury Has No Course Open but Conviction—Admits Telling Different Story, but Says She Tried to Shield Mistress.

Minneapolis, Oct. 22.—A young colored girl, Celia Coleman, sat on the witness stand in Nassau county's supreme court room and swore away the life of Mrs. Florence Carman. It did not seem to affect the woman—Mrs. Carman—at least so far as could be seen, any more than if Celia's words had been dried leaves falling.

Later a tramp—an educated tramp—Frank J. Farrell, finished the mass of the day's incriminating evidence by telling a story of chance and hunger that led him into the grounds of the Carman residence just in time to see a woman run up to a window, smash it in, fire a revolver and move away. "I shot him," said Mrs. Carman, according to the colored girl's testimony, and the twelve men in the jury box moved forward just a bit in their chairs, as if they had been one man.

"See," Mrs. Carman said in the same breath, and a revolver, a blue steel revolver, was held out for Celia's inspection.

And then this young darky told a clear and perfectly lucid story under the guiding questions of District Attorney Smith of what has been rated one of the most remarkable and mysterious murders of recent times.

Maid's Testimony Crucial.

If her testimony is to be accepted by the jury as true they can do nothing but find Mrs. Carman guilty. The story told by that girl leaves no question of doubt as to the murderer of Mr. Lulu Bailey on June 30. It leaves no link unaccounted for in the various stories preceding and following the crime. It places the guilt on but one person Mrs. Carman, and confirms her as a murderess by self confession.

But it is by no means certain that Celia Coleman will be considered entirely credible by all of the jurors. She has told different stories on previous occasions. Even her testimony at this trial was in some instances contradictory under cross examination. Through it all Mrs. Carman sat unmoved and at ease. If Celia's story is taken at its word it clears up the mystery of Mrs. Bailey's murder, but it does not by one whit lessen the astounding character of the crime.

On the other hand, if her story is untrue, as Mr. Graham of the defense is trying to make the jury believe, one is presented with as astonishing a hot bed of perjury as could well be imagined. It must also be admitted that Frank Farrell, the tramp, has lent his hand in accusing an innocent woman of murder for the sake of a few months' board and lodging in a jail.

Farrell Has Been in Jail.

And it is these things that the defense is asking the jury to admit. Question after question was put to Celia and to Farrell by Mr. Graham to show that they cannot be believed. Farrell admitted that he had once been convicted of larceny and had served ten weeks in jail under the cross examination of Mr. Graham. Celia admitted that she had consciously told one story of the shooting of Mrs. Bailey on one occasion and quite another story on a second occasion. However, she said her first statements were made at the instigation of Mrs. Carman and Lawyer Levy and she made them to save her mistress.

COTTON EXCHANGE TO OPEN

November 2 Is Date Set by Superintendent King.

New York, Oct. 22.—The New York cotton exchange will open Nov. 2, according to a statement made by Superintendent King of the exchange.

Mr. King refused to discuss the "buy a bale of cotton" movement, but J. P. Ferral, a member of the firm of J. S. Bayne & Co., who claims to be the father of the movement, said that it was estimated that about 750,000 bales had already been disposed of in this way. Ferral said that there was a surplus of about 1,000,000 bales to be absorbed.

OUR BOYS and GIRLS

AN AMUSING TOY.

Hobby Horse and Rider Move on Pivots in Lifelike Manner.

An ingenious and amusing toy has been devised by a Canadian and is shown herewith. It comprises a hobby horse, on which is mounted a manikin, both horse and rider being pivotally constructed at different parts so that when put in action the motion is very lifelike. The two figures are mounted on a base which rocks on an elliptical steel band, which also acts as a spring. The horse's forefeet are pivoted to a block on the stand and his hindquarters are pivoted to his body. The rider is pivoted to the seat and an elastic connection with the animal's rear legs operates both figures in relation. When the base of the toy is rocked or made to Rocks on Spring Support. Bounce-up-and-down the horse's body moves on his pivoted forelegs and hindquarters and gives him the appearance of running. At the same time the body of the rider sways back and forth in the manner of one urging his mount forward, if not in the best equestrian style.

The Parrot's Mistake. Have you heard of "Merrie England?" Well, it isn't always merry, but here is a very merry sailor boy story that comes from there.

Some parrots can talk in a very clever manner, and their droll sayings often make people laugh.

One particular parrot was the pet on board a warship, and it was so very clever that it learned to imitate a great many things. It often heard the boatswain of the ship blow his whistle when he was ordering the sailor men about their work, and before very long it could imitate exactly every kind of whistle.

Well, one day a party of ladies came from the shore in a small boat on a visit to the warship, and as the sides of the ship were very high, they had to sit in a chair to be hoisted up to the deck.

A rope was fastened to the chair, of course, and some sailormen pulled the rope until the lady in the chair got to the deck.

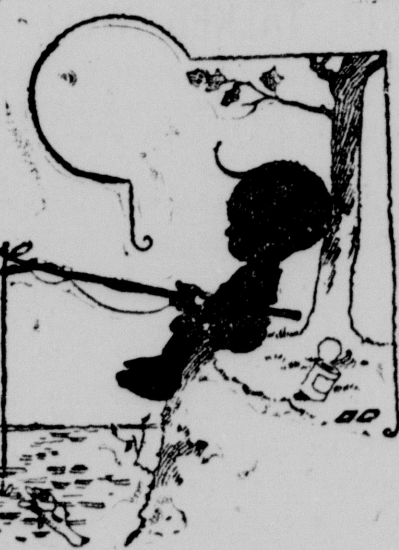

Polly the parrot was looking round a corner watching the ladies come on deck in that way. And suddenly, as the sailormen were pulling up another of the ladies, Polly whistled like the boatswain, and called out, "Let go!"

The sailormen thought it was the boatswain, who had whistled, and they let go the rope at once, and in a moment the poor lady was in the sea!

Most fortunately, however, some other sailormen were on the watch, and they quickly pulled the lady out of the water.

FAMILY THEATRE

Manager Plein who has just returned from a business trip to Chicago announces an exceptionally well balanced program for the latter portion of the current week, commencing Thursday. The Broadway Comedy Four will doubtless prove prime favorites during their brief engagement with their splendid harmony and solo selections which should meet with the approval of the most fastidious. They are a happy organization and need no introduction in high class vaudeville. Aside from being possessed of excellent singing voices they are comedians of no mean ability and an element of comedy predominates their offering that is most cheerful and enjoyable.

The Davids Duo offer a little of everything in the variety line and are adept artists in everything they indulge. Their novel vehicle affords ample opportunity for the display of their versatile talents and that they will be warmly welcomed is a foregone conclusion.

Pictures tonight are: The Table of the Manteaux of Joe and Father's Second Time on Earth; The Love of Oresan; Andy Learns to Swim.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

Everybody likes King Baggot. don't fail to see him in "The Man Who Was Misunderstood" tonight, a two reel Imp drama. Earnest Thompson Seaton has often shown fidelity and affection that an animal holds toward its master in various stories, and many great writers have sounded the praises of animal affection to the skies. When all is said and done of all the animals in the lower kingdom, the dog is undoubtedly the most faithful toward the person to whom it becomes attached. In Switzerland, the giant St. Bernard is the guardian of the passes and the protector of human life. On the Scotch Moors, the Collie guards the flock in a way and manner beyond the ken of mankind. The police dogs of Germany are noted for their wonderful instinct in tracking animals, and it will be recalled that during the slavery days the bloodhound was the principal means of bringing back deserters to the slave camps. The Eskimo could not exist without his "husky" as he depends on those powerful animals as a means of locomotion. For hunting and securing provender it is a well known fact that the dog is man's greatest asset and friend, but the place where a dog's affection and kindness is most felt is in the homes of the lowly. Many a poor lonely man has eked out an existence and lived in solitude with the exception of his canine friend, and the faithfulness which some of these animals show towards their master is wonderful to a marked degree. To those of position and wealth the dog is a luxury and plaything, but to a man in the thralls of poverty, it is a friend and companion. "The Man Who Was Misunderstood," is a retrospective drama of a man who lost. (King Baggot) is an old fiddler, who ekes out an existence by playing the fiddle on the street corners, accompanied by his dog Roger, who acts as his companion and protector.

"Animated Weekly" No. 134, is a reel that everyone should see; it includes the very latest war scenes and current events of the world.

"The Third Party," is a very high grade joker comedy.

FOUR STORES

"Every Inch a Clothing Store."

DIXON, ILLINOIS.

The Trey O' Hearts

A gesture drew her attention to a huge boulder poised insecurely on the very lip of the chasm.

"We're going to tip that over on your friends, Miss Judith!" Marrophat replied, with a smack of his hand on his forehead. "Simple—neat—efficient—eh? What more can you ask?"

She answered only with an irrepressible gesture of horror. Marrophat, who followed her as she turned away.

For some moments she strained her vision vainly, endeavoring to penetrate the turbulent currents of superheated air that filled the valley. Then she made out indistinctly the faintly marked line of the lower trail; and immediately she caught a glimpse of three small figures, mounted, toiling painfully toward the point where death awaited them like a bolt from the blue.

Hastily she glanced over-shoulder: Hopi Jim and Marrophat, ignoring her, were straining themselves against the boulder without budging it an inch, for all its apparent nicety of poise. For an instant a wild hope flashed through her mind, but it was immediately extinguished when Hopi Jim stepped back and uttered a few words of which only two—"dynamite" and "fuse"—reached her ears.

Kneeling beside the boulder he dug busily for an instant, then lodged the stick to his satisfaction, attached the fuse, and breaking off, edged on his belly to the edge of the cliff and looked down, carefully calculating the length of the fuse by the distance of the party down below from the spot where the rock must fall.

But while he was so engaged and Marrophat aided him, all eager interest, Judith was taking advantage of their disregard of her.

Hurriedly unbuttoning her jacket, she whipped a playing card from her pocket, a trey o' hearts, and with the stub of a pencil scribbled three words on its face—"Danger! Go back!"

Then finding a small, flatish bit of rock, she bound the card to it with a bit of string; and with one more backward glance to make sure she was not watched, approached the brink.

Hopi Jim was meticulously shortening the fuse, Marrophat kneeling by his side.

In the canyon below the three were within two minutes of the danger point.

It was no trick at all to drop the stone so that it fell within a dozen feet of the leading horseman.

She saw him rein in suddenly, dismount, cast a look aloft, then dismount and pick up the warning.

As the others joined him, he detached the card and showed it to them.

At the same time Hopi Jim and Marrophat jumped up and ran back, each seizing and holding his horse by nose and bridle.

Constrained to do likewise lest she lose her mount, Judith waited with a lightened heart.

The explosion smote dull echoes from the flanks of the Painted hills, all drowsing in the noon-day hush; the boulder teetered reluctantly on the brink, then disappeared with a tearing sound followed by a rush of earth and gravel; a wide gap appeared in the brink of the trail.

Leaving Marrophat to hold the two frightened horses while the girl soothed her own, the bandit rushed to the edge, threw himself flat and swore bitterly, with an accent of grievance, as he rose.

From the canyon below a dull noise of galloping hoofs advertised too plainly the failure of their attempt.

And Hopi Jim turned back only to find Judith mounted, reining her horse in between him and Marrophat, and prepared to give emphasis to what she had to say with an automatic pistol that nestled snugly in her palm.

"One moment, Mr. Slade," she suggested evenly. "Just a moment before you break the sad news to Mr. Marrophat, I've something to say that needs your attention—likewise, your respect. It is this: I am parting company with you and Mr. Marrophat. I am riding on toward the west, by this trail. If either of you care to follow me"—the automatic flashed ominously in the sun glare—"it will be with full knowledge of the consequences. Mr. Marrophat will enlighten you if you have any doubt of my ability to take care of myself in such affairs as this. If you are well advised, you will turn back and report failure to my father."

She nodded curtly and swung her horse round.

"And what shall I tell your father from you?" Marrophat demanded sharply.

"What you please," the girl replied, flashing an impish smile over-shoulder.

"But, since when I part company with you, I part with him as well—for all of me, you may tell him to go to the devil!"

"Well," Mr. Marrophat admitted confidentially to Mr. Slade, "I'm damned!"

"And that ain't all," Mr. Slade confessed in Mr. Marrophat, whipping out his own revolver: "You're being held up, too. I'll take those guns of your'n, friend, and what else you've got about you that's of value, including your horse—and when you get back to old man Trine you can just tell him, with my best compliments, that I've quit the job and lit out after that daughter of his'n. She's a heap sight more attractive than nineteen thousand dollars, and not half so hard to earn!"

Restaurant Man Says Plain Girl Does More Work, So Chorus Type Must Be Banished.

That same sort of discrimination which has resulted in the discharge from certain railroad shops of all men weighing less than 150 pounds and the discharge of all street car conductors weighing more than 190 soon may be applied to the waitress.

A beautiful, real-hair blonde was missing from an uptown Broadway restaurant. When a reporter noticed the blank space and asked after the reason the manager said: "She's fired on account of her looks."

"Looks! Why, she was the best-looking girl you had. She was a regular headliner here, a bill-topper. Wasn't that bad business policy?"

"Stop right there," the manager interrupted. "Business will be better without her. What's more, I'll not try to hire a successor who looks anything like her. This is why she and all others of her stamp are time-wasters, though not always because they like to be. Nearly any plain waitress can cover twice the ground. The beautiful, golden-haired, big-eyed creature lost fifteen minutes in 'kidding' before they can get a Broadway sport to centre his attention on the bill of fare.

"But in the case of the plain girl—how different! There's no 'Please give me some angel food' foolishness then. It's simply 'Gimme bowl o' veg. pls' feet an' fried onions.' And all the plain girl has to answer is 'Yes, sir,' and away she goes. Our reputation for quick and efficient service is the gainer by it.

"I won't go the length of saying I'll never hire another blonde. But I will say this—let the chorus girl type stick to the profess. There's no room for her in this beanyery."—New York World.

Banana the Greatest Fruit.

Mr. Gustave Leblanc, a Costa Rican, speaking at the Queen's Hotel recently about fruit problems in Central America, stated that every year the city to which he belongs, Port Limon, sends out 8,000,000 bunches of the best commercial fruit grown in the tropical lands of Central America.

"In the district surrounding Port Limon there are about forty plantations, each one with its manager, and each covering an area of from 100 to 500 acres.

"The managers of these plantations are chiefly Americans, though there is a sprinkling of English, German and native managers.

The Costa Rican Railway, the Northern Costa Rican Railway, and numerous branch lines have been built for the purpose of developing this great fruit zone, the working of which is becoming more and more profitable every year.

"The banana industry is perhaps the most important of the fruit industries.

"A good banana plantation will yield as much as 500 bunches for every two and one-half acres, and sometimes as many as 750 bunches are raised. Squads of negroes are set to work cutting down the banana bunches and a squad cuts as a rule 30 bunches a day, for which the negro receives about 3 or 4 cents a bunch.

"Each plant is chopped down when its bunch is cut and given about three months in which to grow and produce another bunch. This chopping is done three or four times a year, which enables the land to continue yielding for years and years.

No Trouble At All

Copyright, Puck By M. W.

YES, I know that women boarders are often a great deal more trouble than men," said the new boarder while she was unpacking her trunk in Mrs. Skilling's boarding-house.

"But I'm thankful, Mrs. Skillings, that I am not one of that kind. No reason why a woman should be more troublesome than a man, even if the man does go off about his business every day. They said the last place I boarded that I was no more trouble than a man, because I was so willing to take things as I found them. I often say—Oh, Mrs. Skillings, I see that there is some kind of fancy soap on my washstand, and I never use anything but white castle soap. Would you mind getting that kind for me?"

"I suppose that I can."

"And I see that you have hardfinch towels in my room. Now, I prefer towels a little rough, and I like my bath towels much larger than these. Could you change these for me?"

"I'll see if I can."

"I wish that you would, please. I see that there are no pillow-shams on the bed. When one has only room and a bed in that room, the mused pillows look so bad if one has a caller. I wonder if you could get me a pair of shams?"

"Maybe I could."

"I wish you would, please. I don't want to make the least trouble. That isn't my way, for I feel that—I'm glad the bath-room is right across the hall, for I often like to wash out my handkerchiefs and small pieces and where I boarded last the landlady was quite willing for me to iron small pieces in her kitchen, for I never made any work doing it, as some would. Often when I didn't feel just like getting up my landlady sent my break fast to my room. Would you mind doing that now and then?"

"Not if you were sick."

"Thank you. You are ever so kind. I don't want to make you any extra work at all, for—Oh, I notice that there are no draperies at the windows and I think they add so much to a room. I wonder if you would mind putting up some simple muslin curtains, and I see that you have yellow shades at the windows, and I have become converted to the theory that green shades are so much better for the eyes. They lessen the glare of the sun. Could you make the change?"

"It would be a good deal of trouble."

"Oh, not at all. They would send some one up from the store to do it. I don't urge it now, because I am not sure how long I shall stay; but if I stayed permanently I would want this yellowish wall paper taken off and some pale tint of green put on. Green is so restful. Oh, I meant to ask the day I engaged the room if you use unsalted butter. Do you?"

"No, I do not."

"Would you mind getting just a little for me? I can tell you where to get it. I find that it agrees with me better than salted butter, and I like the taste better. Then I never eat anything but whole-wheat bread, and I never eat warm bread of any description, and I always have a cup of hot water with a pinch of salt sent up to my room every morning."

"I see that there are large nails in stead of hooks in this closet. Hooks are so much nicer. Would you mind having some put in to take the place of the nails?"

"Do you suppose that this is a mouse-hole here in the closet? I couldn't sleep a minute if I thought there was a mouse on this floor, even. Do have that hole stopped right up!"

"Is that someone playing the piano downstairs? I hope they don't play it before ten in the morning, for I often lie abed until then and it would be so disturbing to have it played before I am up. I never make any trouble for others, and I don't like to have them make any for me. One reason why some landladies prefer men boarders is that they make less trouble than some of these fussy and exacting women, but I think that you will find that I can be as little trouble as a man."

"Now, would you mind having a raw egg sent up to me? I have one sent up every morning at eleven o'clock and another just before I retire. And I hope that you can arrange so that I can have the exclusive use of the bathroom from nine to ten two evenings a week. Is there a shower-bath? No? I wonder if you couldn't put one in sometime? Now, if you don't mind, I'll just run down to the kitchen and press out this dress. I see that it has gotten so mused up in packing and I think I'll just iron out a few handkerchiefs I washed in my room yesterday. Will you please tell Jane to put on an iron?"

THE MODERN WAY

The Whistling Girl and the Crowing Hen looked at each other and burst out laughing.

"We'll show 'em!" they exclaimed as with one voice, and then, with their hands in the air, they marched in, past any number of girls who couldn't whistle and hens which couldn't crow, and signed for the vaudeville circuit at $1,000 a week.

Times change, and what was a very sound proverb yesterday may have become, by the progress of events, quite punk to-day.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" ENDS STOMACH MISERY, INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Pape's Diaepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out of order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes.

"Pape's Diaepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diaepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

DIXON PEOPLE SHOULD NOT NEGLECT THEIR KIDNEYS.

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To relieve the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Here is convincing proof of merit. It comes from this locality.

Mrs. J. H. Boehm, 906 Fourth Ave., Sterling, Ill., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years, and think they are the best kidney remedy to be had. Although I never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills myself, I can confirm the public statement I gave some years ago in their favor. One of the family had trouble from his back and kidneys. The kidney action was irregular and his back hurt him. Finally, he used Doan's Kidney Pills, and they gave him relief."

The above is not an isolated case. Mrs. Boehm is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Boehm recommends. 50c all stores. BRITAIN SEIZES AMERICAN SHIPS

Cargoes of Oil Are Believed Intended for Germany.

THREE VESSELS ARE TAKEN

England Centends That Shipments of Contraband, Though Directed to Denmark, Are Really Destined to German and Turkish Ports—Denmark Violates Neutrality?

Washington, Oct. 22.—That Great Britain intends to interfere with shipments of American oil to neutral ports in the vicinity of Germany, particularly Danish ports, has been established here. The reason for the British determination already exemplified by the seizures of three American oil ships is the desire to prevent Germany from getting fuel for her air-craft—her Zeppelins and aeroplanes. The British maintain that the shipments of oil to Danish ports which have been already seized are in reality destined for German points and will not therefore be permitted to proceed.

Denmark Violates Neutrality? The British action goes further towards suggesting that the Danish government is not as strict as it should be in preserving its neutrality. It is reported here that the British authorities have reason to believe that Denmark is yielding to the German influence and cannot be trusted to prevent the exportation of contraband of war into Germany. Great Britain has recently made an arrangement with the United States whereby American shippers are to enjoy their usual access to the markets of Holland, Sweden and Denmark, provided those neutral countries prohibit the exportation of contraband of war to Germany. If the British suspicions continue to be acted upon these markets will be at least partially closed to American shippers of contraband and conditional contraband.

The ships seized by the British thus far are the Brindilla, held at Halifax, pending the convening of a prize court; the John D. Rockefeller, seized off the Orkney Islands; and the Platorita, seized off the north coast of Scotland. All these vessels belong to the Standard Oil company and were carrying oil.

The state department is without precise information as to the cause of the seizure of the Brindilla and is waiting developments at Halifax before proceeding on behalf of the ships. It has been reported that the validity of the transfers was to be questioned, but it is now intimated that the charge will be that her cargo of oil was eventually to reach German or Turkish points. Members of congress here and others are beginning to chafe under the delay of the state department in ascertaining the exact cause for the seizure of the American vessels.

Asks Rockefeller's Release. In the case of the Rockefeller, there being no question regarding its ownership and registry, the state department instructed Ambassador Page at London to state to the British government that she has never been anything but an American vessel and to request her immediate release.

From present indications the United States is not yet prepared to accept without question the British claim to a right to hold up these oil or other American vessels bound for neutral ports.

The British, it is said, are prepared to go the limit in support of their action with regard to these oil ships and subsequent shipments of oil to Danish ports which British cruisers may encounter on the high seas. There is no intention to take American ships themselves as prisoners but merely to condemn or requisition the ships' cargoes.

It was learned today that the seizure of the three American vessels has been taken up in London and it is now a matter of discussion between the British foreign office and the American embassy there.

Mauretania and Olympic Sail for Home to Be Laid Up.

New York, Oct. 22.—The sailing for Liverpool of the steamship Mauretania of the Cunard line and the White Star liner Olympic marked the last appearance of these ships in an American port for an indefinite period.

According to officials of the line, the sailing off in transatlantic travel, due mainly to the war, has made it advisable that the ships be laid up for a time. The Baltic of the White Star line also sailed for Liverpool. The three ships carried nearly 400 passengers booked in cabin accommodations.

NEGRO YOUTHS ADMIT ATTACKS ON 5 GIRLS

Incidentally They Explode "Positive Identifications."

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 22.—The East St. Louis police state that two negro boys, each seventeen years old, who were arrested Monday, have confessed taking part in attacks on East St. Louis girls, none of whom was more than eighteen years old and three of whom were sixteen. Five attacks were reported to the police.

The prisoners declared, according to the police, that William Ripley, also known as James Grangle, an ex-convict, who was shot and killed Sunday night by John Bartolett, had planned robberies and the attacks.

Bartolett's appearance on the scene Sunday night interrupted an attack being made by three negroes on Ernest Bennett, eighteen years old, and Miss Margaret Wiltshire, sixteen.

Bartolett fired several shots when he surprised the negroes. Ripley returned the fire. Bennett was wounded in the hip, but his condition is not serious.

Directed by Ripley, according to the confession, their method was to wait in a dark corner for the approach of a young woman with an escort. The escort was seized and robbed. A long bladed knife usually was held at the throats of the victims to prevent screaming.

News of the confessions was withheld until the negroes had been taken to Belleville for fear of mob violence.

The confession frees two negroes placed in the county jail at Belleville after having been identified by two of the young women victims as their assailants.

BRITISH SHIPS CHECK FOE

Coast Town Held by Germans Shelled and Two Flyers Brought Down.

London, Oct. 22.—A newspaper correspondent at Dover has sent to London details of the recent operations of British warships off the coast of Belgium. He says that Saturday night the ships watched a force of Germans digging trenches along the coast under a flare of lights. This enabled the English boats to get the exact range and at daylight they shot the enemy's positions heavily.

A taube aeroplane was brought down and later a Zeppelin. It is declared that the guns of the British vessels accounted for 1,600 Germans killed and wounded, in addition to putting six batteries of artillery out of action. Meanwhile German submarines tried in vain to sink the British ship. This dispatch is not confirmed by the official press bureau.

German Cruiser Emden Plays Havoc With Steamers in India.

London, Oct. 22.—The German cruiser Emden has again been sinking British steamers, this time at a point 150 miles southwest of Cochin, British India, according to a report received by the admiralty from Colombo, Ceylon. She has sent to the bottom the British steamers Chikana, Troilus, Benrochr and Clan Grant and the dredger Ponrable, bound for Tasmania.

The British steamer Exford was captured by the Emden.

IDAHO TREASURER IS SHORT

Accountants at Work on Books Find 90,000 to $100,000 Gone.

Idaho, Oct. 22.—It was announced officially that a shortage of between $90,000 and $100,000 had been found in the accounts of State Treasurer O. V. Allen, who placed his resignation in the hands of Governor Haines several days ago, when accountants sent by the surety company on his bonds arrived to "expert" the books.
